VOL. XXXIII.

STANFORD, KY. TUESDAY, MARCH 14, 1905. 3 P. M.

NO. 4

MATRIMONIAL.

David Holland, aged 48, and Miss Urs Walker, 14, were married at Central City.

Joseph Hill, aged 30, and Miss Sallie Bateh, 14, eloped from Portsville, Del., to Laurel, that State, and were made one.

The knowing ones say there will be a wedding on Lozano's Creek tomorrow, in which a Stanford gentleman will play a leading role.

A wedding took place at Ballwin, Nottingham, in which the bride, bridegroom, best man and a bridesmaid were all deaf-mutes.

New York has solved the rapid transit problem. Eighteen couples were shunted from the state of matrimony to the state of single blessedness in 13 minutes by Judge Trux—Louisville Times.

News comes from Colorado Springs that Edwin Watson, son of Prof. J. J. Watson, formerly a professor in Central College, Danville, has been married to Miss Mabel Everett, an heiress of a fortune amounting to $1,000,000.

In Russia every woman of the upper class marries, or pretends to marry. If a girl comes to the decision that no one is likely to ask her to marry, she leaves home, goes to some distant district and returns after a time to announce that she is a widow, that her husband has since died. No embarrassing questions are put to her, for among the peasants it is considered bad form to mention a dead man to his widow. This curious custom goes to show in what regard the women of Russia look upon the institution of marriage.—Pearson's Weekly.

OTTENHEIM.

John Westell is still confined to his bed.

Terry & Newell are back again in the neighborhood making staves.

G. M. Adams had another cow go mad last week and die. This makes two that he has lost in less than a month.

Andy McKelney is in Garrard, where he is employed, George Marchbanks, of Garrard, is in this community visiting friends.

Garry Adams and James Griffin have formed a partnership for the Summer. One furnishes the wood and the other the water, but there was nothing said who furnished the bread and meat.

Mr. James Hammonds and children, who have been visiting her father and other relatives, have returned to Richmond. Jennie Adams, who has been quite ill, is much improved. William Higgins Anderson, who has been sick with pneumonia, is much better at this writing. Johnnie Anderson, the little son of Wm. Anderson, is very sick with pneumonia. G. M. Ballard and Hiram Kidd are on the eve of going to Somerset. Both are good citizens and we will give them up with regret. Mr. Ballard is an splendid Sunday School worker.

A Letter From Home.

[In case the Oiler idea is adopted.] Dear Jim: The crop is doing well. The calf is big enough to sell. I've traded off the horse for a new one and he ain't got but one jaw left. The horse ain't fat and sleek. Except that Bob is rather weak. But still that ain't nothing new. We've had him high on 30 year. I think I'll put the horse in a corn and oats; it oughter yield a heavy crop. The land is rich. And just the thing for oats and such. There is no news to speak of Jim. Miss Susie Jones is just as trim as when you saw her in the fall. The folks are well. I guess that's all. But stop. I most forgot 'bout dad. I expect the news'll make you sad. You know that dad was getting old. Just 60 years had o'er him rolled. And so, I must regret to say. We chanced near him today. And that's 'bout all the news until I write again. Your brother, Bill. —Pittsburg Post

The late King of Saxony left the richest collection of crown jewels in Europe. One glass case in the "green vaults" at Dresden contains assorted sets of the most costly gems. In one is an emerald and sapphire. In another is a crown, in another rubies, in another diamonds, in another pearls. The largest rubies weigh 45 and 19 carats. The rarest gem is a green diamond weighing 40 carats. There are two of Martin Luther's rings and one of Melancthon's.

At Denver, Col., George Schister, a teamster, mangled because of a feud by K. P. Fill in a saw mill, shot and killed Fill and his wife and set fire to their house. Returning to his home, Schister barricaded himself and shot and wounded three men who attempted his capture. He was finally killed.

Safes blowers robbed a bank at Reno, Nev., of $2,700.

LANCASTER.

Miss Lizzie Hudson has nervous prostration.

Ezra Berkeley bought a pair of mules at Broadhead for $250. J. P. Rogers bought two yearling calves of George Grayson for $25.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Allender, of Lexington, are visiting Mrs. Jennie West. Miss Frankie Kaufman is reported some better.

Robt. Henry, who shot and killed Leonard Simpson on Fall Lick, in Garrard, on account of an old grudge, stood his examining trial and was acquitted. James Huffman, son of Frank Huffman, of Garrard, was kicked on the head by a horse and will probably die. The unfortunate boy lost an eye one year ago by an accidental blow.

Circuit court convened yesterday. Judge Bell's charge to the grand jury was very learned and comprehensive. The docket was called and cases set for trial, nothing of importance being tried Monday.

Mr. Leander Davidson was buried Sunday in the Lancaster cemetery. Mr. Davidson was about 70 and was one of Garrard's most prominent citizens. His wife and three children—Robert L., Guy and Mrs. Z. T. Rice, survived. Old Uncle Dennis Brown, of Loganwood, was up in the city today. He says he lives until the 22nd of this month he will be 113 years of age. He came from Maryland in 1800, and says that he walked most of the way. Uncle Dennis is in apparently good health, his mind being extraordinarily clear.

An event of great interest in local society is the announcement of the wedding of Miss Mary Gill and Dr. G. C. Paris, which will take place Wednesday evening, 22nd, at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Donald McDonald, an uncle of the bride. They will, immediately after the ceremony, drive to Danville and take the train for the South for a short trip. Only relatives and a few intimate friends will be present.

POLITICAL.

Simple, impolitic measures marked the funeral of the late Senator W. B. State at Nashville.

The President appointed Senator James B. McCreary a member of the Board of Visitors to the Naval Academy.

The President has decided to consider no more applicants for positions in the consular service till after his return from his Southern trip.

It is reported that the Senate will only on Friday of this week the Santo Domingo treaty as amended. A statement has been issued citing a letter by Secretary Blaine to the Minister to France as a precedent.

The special commission created by President Roosevelt to consider the subject of naturalization will submit a full report at the next regular session of Congress. Evidence has been found to indicate a large number of false and fraudulent cases.

The Senate committee is so slow about making a report on the appointment of the Negro lawyer Anderson to the collectorship in New York that there is talk of a "hold up" in his case. The New York Senators, while not pleased, are acquiescent, but certain Western members said to be stirring up opposition to his confirmation.

The absorbing topic of discussion in political circles in Nashville is the Senatorial election. At present it seems to be Gov. Fisher against the old. Friends of former Gov. Benton McMillin and Robert Taylor are advising them not to contest the election to the vacancy with Frazer, but they have not signified any intention of staying out of a contest.

CHURCH MATTERS.

There are 29 millionaires in Shady-side church of Pittsburg, of which the Rev. Kelsey Smith is pastor.

Rev. Dr. P. T. Hale, who went from Kentucky to be president of the Southwestern Baptist University, has raised $20,000 of the $100,000 endowment desired.

Rev. Phillip Falk King, one of the oldest preachers of the Christian church in Kentucky, former pastor of the Christian church at Carlisle, had accepted a call to Millersburg.

As a result of the recent revival the Methodist church has received 34 conversions and a few others are yet to come. The Second Presbyterian church has received 23 to date. Twelve have been taken into the Christian church, with several more to come, and 10 have been taken into the Baptists—Danville Advocate.

By the explosion of a bomb in a hotel in St. Petersburg, the owner of the infernal machine was blown to atoms and the wife of an army officer was killed. The man was making his effects at the time and the explosion was probably accidental.

NEWS NOTES.

The Bank of Lawton, at Lawton, O. T., is in the hands of a receiver.

Mrs. Lora Lancaster, of Cadiz, died suddenly while visiting a friend.

The big ship for store of Max Franklin, at Audubon, was destroyed by fire. Alexander Martin was hanged at Toronto, Ont., for the murder of his child.

A bank has been organized at Waco, Madison county, with a capital stock of $15,000.

Mrs. Nancy Kelly, the oldest white woman in Maryland, is dead at the age of 107 years.

Augustus H. Cobb, banker and half owner of the Southern Kentucky Mills, committed suicide at Suffolk, Va.

Andrew Carnegie is to get $24,400 for his attendance at the Chadwick trial and has been relieved of this necessity of testifying.

The Harrison county grand jury adjourned after returning 20 indictments, nearly 200 of them being against the Standard Oil Co.

Sixteen prisoners confined in the jail at Hot Springs made a dash for liberty. One was killed, one escaped and the others were recaptured.

Harvard University will receive $1,000,000 more by the will of the late William F. Milton, a retired tea importer of Pittsburg, Mass.

Two Negro murderers were hanged in the jail yard at Hot Springs, Ark. One of the condemned spent his last hours in his cell shooting craps.

It is reported in Pittsburg that President Roosevelt has given permission to labor leaders to go among Government workmen for the purpose of organizing them into unions.

Col. Caleb Huse, for many years an instructor in the United States Military Academy, and subsequently forage purchasing agent for the Confederate army, died suddenly at Highland Falls, N. Y., at the age of 75 years.

Coal land frauds, in some respects resembling the Oregon timber steals, have been unearthed in Utah, where hundreds of thousands of acres are said to be involved, ownership being acquired by corporations by questionable methods.

The United Mine Workers of Western Kentucky, by approving the President's recommendations, which included the rate, virtually made a demand for an increase in the wage scale from 75 to 85 cents. Another struggle with the operators is expected.

Mrs. Margaret H. Hays, of Colorado Springs, daughter of Jefferson Davis, has written a letter urging the Confederate veterans of Mississippi to use every endeavor to have the State properly recognized in the inscription on the Davis monument at Richmond, Va.

The will of Mr. Josephine L. Newcomb, bequeathing her property to the H. Sophie Newcomb College for Women in New Orleans, was sustained by the referee in the suit of heirs to contest the will. By the decision the college will be enriched by more than $2,500,000.

Rev. E. Gray, of Birmingham, filed a petition in court asking for a receiver for the South and North Alabama railroad, and further prayed for an injunction against the Louisville and Nashville to prevent its selling the stock of the North and South Alabama to itself for $27.50 a share.

Judge Wheeler, of the United States circuit court of appeals, in New York, rendered an opinion in favor of the American Sugar Refining Co., which, if finally sustained, will cost the government $5,000,000. The question involved is one of refunding duties paid on sugar imported from Cuba.

Drilling for oil is to be on a large scale this spring and summer in Kentucky and Tennessee. Operators have begun to move machinery into sections out of the scope of regular activity. The present agitation in Kansas is said to be depressing the market and keeping down the price of crude oil.

In New York's Ghosts there is a street where there is at least one doctor's sign on every house on both sides of the way for two blocks; and one house, a great tenement like the rest, has on its four sides of votaries of the healing art—two physicians, one dentist and one Homeo and a wife.

Rumors were rife in Wall Street Saturday that Rockefeller, Vanderbilt and Pennsylvania interests had agreed on a gigantic consolidation of railroads, into which the Vanderbilt lines were to be taken. One story is that the Union Pacific is to be the controlling company, while another is that the New York Central is to dominate the combination.

A Safe Cough Medicine For Children.

In buying a cough medicine for children never be afraid to buy Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There is no danger from it and relief is always sure to follow. It is especially valuable for colds, croup and whooping cough. For sale by Lyne Bros., Crab Orchard.

Mary had a little stock—On margin, don't you know? An every way she didn't think The stock was safe to go.—New York Sun.

A suit on the New York Stock Exchange has been sold for $52,500.

HUSTONVILLE.

W. H. Hill died a few days ago, aged about 60.

Page Woolford has accepted a position with the Hotel Newtonian.

One Mary Coal Lile and canoe coal lile. Coal on hands at all times. W. S. Wigham, Moreland.

Cowan & McCormack are buying a car load of hogs and are in the market for several cars of good shipping cattle.

S. D. Yorell has a fine pet alligator that he is training to do stunts out of the ordinary for his amphibious tribe.

The plans for several buildings to go up in our city the coming Summer are maturing and desirable lots are salable at good prices.

W. C. Greening and George Alford returned from New Orleans Saturday, where they sold a car of good horses at satisfactory prices.

Another car of furniture has been received by J. C. Weatherford & Co. and will soon be ready for inspection. This line is a long felt want in our city.

Mrs. Sallie Moran, of Junction City, is visiting relatives here. Charles Bohon, Jr., returned from Missions Saturday looking as fine as a spilt milk. His mother and Mr. Ed Stagz will return about April 1st.

Henry M. Stanley, of Carpenter's Creek, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon of apoplexy, literally worn out by hard work at least 350 days of every year, until exhaustion last winter, put an end to his indefatigable labors. Throughout a robust life of more than 70 years he was rarely too ill to work. Always too busy to take one of others' methods, advice weighed nothing against his experiences, and he held on to the old rule of farming and gardening which prevailed in his boyhood. Naturally suspicious, no bank was considered as safe a custodian of his money as he knew his secret notes. Shoes and various hiding places, and it is probable that much of his board will never be found. At one time his house was entered by masked men and he was forced to give up several hundred dollars. It is suspected the robbers' fear of them prompted an earnest desire of even a suspicion. He survived three wives and is survived by only one family of grown grandchildren and one son of 14 years. It was the first instance in our country that intestate was left entirely to the undertaker and sexton. Henry was not a miser. Ever a bountiful provider and prodigal in purchase of what appetite or fancy prompted.

IN NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

Brother Card, a prominent citizen of Barjain, is dead.

The widow of H. K. Wilson is dead at Barbourville, aged 80.

Miss Alice Barber is dead at Danville. She had been an invalid most of her life.

Mrs. W. S. Saylor's home in Laurel burned and her family barely escaped cremation.

The store of The Snow Mercantile Co., at Snow, Adair county, burned, causing a big loss.

Rev. J. W. Waller was found dead near Somerset. The coroner's jury said that death came from natural causes.

Mrs. Laura Phillips, widow of James G. Phillips, died at her home in Laurel from the infirmities of old age. She was 83.

George Coulter, Jr., resided in Washington county. He was only 4 years old and no cause for his rash act is known.

Neil Henry has been appointed postmaster at Alton, Laurel county, and W. H. McElrath at Shopville, Pulaski county.

The London Mountain Democrat will change its name to "The Laurel County Local" to overcome prejudice against the present name.

Judge Charles McDowell, of Danville, has been appointed Special Judge of the Washington circuit court to try the cases in which Judge Isaac H. Tamm was employed as attorney.

The jury in the case against James Farmer for the murder of Blaine Combs in Clay county, reported that it was impossible to agree upon a verdict after two days, and was finally discharged.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY.

The great success of this preparation in the relief and cure of bowel complaints has brought it into almost universal use. It never fails, and when reduced with H. Tamm was employed as attorney.

The jury in the case against James Farmer for the murder of Blaine Combs in Clay county, reported that it was impossible to agree upon a verdict after two days, and was finally discharged.
